GLADIATOR

By training more muscle groups & creating greater activation within those muscles, Helix® burns more fat and delivers faster results in less time than any other cardio trainer, making it the world's most effective workout.

But lateral training has major benefits beyond fitness as well. As the only cardio trainer that works the body in all 3 dimensions of human motion, lateral trainers have been clinically shown to reduce knee & hip pain due to arthritis, injury or joint replacement surgeries.* They are also effective at reducing age-related fall risk, having been clinically shown to improve strength-related balance by an average 59%.

Eco friendly & ideal for small spaces: tiny footprint + no electricity needed

Because of these competitive advantages, Helix® trainers are used by some of the world's most elite pro athletes, such as the Los Angeles Lakers, the New England Patriots & the Cleveland Cavaliers, yet their therapeutic applications make them equally well suited for injury rehab and prevention for those in search of "active aging."

Cardio that delivers strength training caliber results

Improves joint health over time

Used by PTs to rehab bad knees
